COACHING

Jeremy Weiss grew up in Toronto, Canada where he was introduced to hockey at a young age.

After winning the “AAA” Ontario Championships, he moved to Utah in 9th grade and became the All-time Leader in Career Goals, and Total Points in Utah High School Hockey. As team MVP and leading scorer, he led Timpanogos High School to a State Championship and also won two League MVP awards.

During this time he played four years of Jr. “B” hockey before moving back to Toronto to play two years of Jr. “A” hockey in the Ontario Provincial Junior Hockey League.

Coach Weiss forfeited his last year of Jr. Hockey eligibility in order to serve a full-time mission in Brazil for the LDS church.

In 2004–05, he played collegiate hockey for the BYU IceCats and was the team’s MVP and leading scorer, finishing 9th in the nation in points (ACHA DII). He was also honored as Regional All-Star, and All-American Student Athlete.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Hockey skills must continually be developed and refined throughout the course of a season. Our Winter Camp consists of 4 one-hour training sessions.

This format provides a “mid-season check-point” that will help to reinforce both individual and team skills.

Class size will be limited to no more than 30 players to ensure individual attention is provided.

2009 WINTER CAMP

The Weiss Tech Hockey Winter Camp provides players the opportunity to brush up on their game during the long Christmas break.

By focusing on various aspects of the Hockey Development Pyramid, players will be ready for a quick start to the second half of the season.

- Individual Skills—Players will be schooled through a carefully designed progression of drills, emphasizing powerskating, edge control, puckhandling, passing, and checking.
- Team Skills—Emphasis will be placed on reading and reacting techniques as well as multiple player timing development.
- Team Systems—Players will be taught the basics of breakout systems, neutral zone transitions, and offensive attack options.
- Team Strategy—Will be touched on lightly throughout the camp.
